Multi-talented: new Navara is Nissan's most versatile tool

- Answers demand for greater personalisation options in automotive market

With over 125 genuine accessories and an infinite number of customisation combinations the all-new Nissan Navara is the manufacturer's most versatile tool across its entire range.

At a time when personalisation continues to grow as a significant trend in the automotive market, the all-new Navara - the Swiss Army knife of the Nissan Light Commercial Vehicle (LCV) range - gives consumers the freedom to customise their vehicle down to the smallest detail, making it the perfect partner for even the most niche of tasks.

With the majority of consumers (70%) wanting a more personalised shopping experience*, the all-new Navara rises to the challenge of modern day customer needs, delivering a vast array of clever and innovative accessory options for work and leisure.

Ponz Pandikuthira, Director for LCVs, Nissan Europe, said: "Personalisation is taking the automotive industry by storm. Customers have increasingly varied and specialised practicality and styling expectations from their vehicles, whether they are buying for business or leisure. Owners want their personal cars to reflect their own sense of identity and style, while their business cars need to conform to their brand's identity and act as an impactful form of on-the-road advertising."

The perfect partner

For business customers, the integrated toolbox and bed divider offer practical space-saving solutions, while the plastic and aluminium bed-liner options protect the load bay from dents and scrapes caused by heavy objects – allowing drivers to complete all jobs without inflicting any damage on the appearance of their vehicle.

Satisfying demands for providing a pick-up for leisure as well as work, the Navara benefits families with its range of textile and rubber mats, protecting the car's interior from muddy feet and dog walks as well as a variety of load space covers offering better storage solutions to protect from the elements during family adventure weekends.

Those looking for a stand-out, stylish leisure ride will enjoy the optional extras inspired by new design features in Nissan's Crossover range, which include the styling bars, styling bar lamps, 18" alloy wheels, exhaust finisher and stickers line-up, giving owners the freedom to create their own unique look.

Proving Nissan's dedication to quality and excellence in every aspect of its vehicles is the Navara's brand new hard top, one of the stand out accessories of the new pick-up. Designed and developed at Nissan's European facilities it is the most competitive hard top available in the LCV market; with a central locking system, interior lighting and bespoke interior trims. Available in all body colours – with perfect fitment and quality assured by Nissan's expert team of engineers.

Leading the pack

Among the range of ever-popular features, Nissan introduces a number of sector leading, competitor rivalling accessories to the new Navara, designed to enable an access all areas approach.

These include:

- Sliding tray: Located in the load bay of the vehicle, this handy tray provides an easy way to access items and bring everything within easy reach
- Rear step: A useful addition for those making regular use of Navara's storage capabilities, enabling easy access to the load bay
- Tailgate assist: Custom designed for Navara, this useful device safely controls the drop of the tailgate – letting the vehicle do all the work
- Load carrier for load space cover: Fitted to the load space, the carrier creates more room for carrying large or unwieldy items, such as bikes and ladders

To complete the package, Nissan is further supporting Navara owners in both their personal and professional ventures with a five year or 160,000kms warranty on all genuine accessories, as part of Nissan's market-leading Five Year Warranty across its LCV range.
